Matric Class of 2016

The King's School Robin Hills is immensely proud of the Matric class of 2016. The group was triumphant in their final examinations and leave behind a strong legacy of excellence that the school is known for.

We applaud all the diligent learners, who, along with their dedicated teachers and devoted parents, showed great commitment to finishing the year and their school careers on a high note.

The school is elated with the 100% pass rate which has been secured since starting with our first IEB Matric group in 1997. Among the 48 Matric learners, 87 As, 103 Bs and 83 Cs were achieved with 11 learners achieving averages of above 80% and 11 additional learners achieving averages of above 70%.

We honour the following learners for their great achievements:

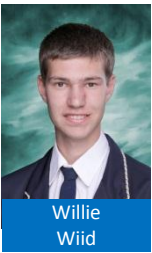

Achieving an 'A' aggregate and six distinctions

Achieving an 'A' aggregate and five distinctions

Achieving an 'A' aggregate and four distinctions

Achieving an 'A' aggregate as well as three distinctions

Achieving four distinctions

Achieving three distinctions

The following learners achieved in the Top 1% in their respective subjects

- Daniel Hall – Business Studies
- Emmanuel Francis – Life Orientation
- Nicola Sergeant – Life Orientation
- Anya Wille – Afrikaans FAL

We are thrilled that our overall average is again above that of the IEB and we know that persistence, perseverance, and prayer from our learners, staff and parents is what allows us to keep achieving outstanding results year on year.

As a school that has kept God at the centre of our education for the last 33 years, we honour Him for each learner who has graced our school as well as for the strong legacy of excellence that they have left behind.
